Panane Hampower Ceiling

HQ USAF/HPH

The Congressionally mendated menpower ceiling in Pensma is a major concern to TAC. The growing political and military interest in Central and South America murrant a re-evaluation of this arbitrary ceiling and we appreciate the apportunity to comment.

2. As you know, the TAC portion of the Penama reduction was 240 spaces. Those spaces are off the books now, but it was not an easy chore. As requested, we are providing rationals for return of some of those spaces to meet mission needs in Penama as seen by Rajor, General Masterson and his subordinate commanders (Atch 1). Of course, we understand that if the ceiling were to be raised, TAC would have to provide any spaces added back.

3. Dur ultimate objective should be to lift the ceiling altogether. We believe that an arbitrary cailing in Panama is inappropriate not only for nilitary and political reasons, but also for reasons maint cause difficulty in the proper utilization of total command manpower resources. At a time when activity withhe DESOUTHOOK is in the national spotlight, it is conceivable that additional manpower could be required to meet unforcesome requirements. We see no retionals to continue treating Howard AFD differently from other IAC bases. Elainating the calling would enable equal and consistent treatment of manpower management policy throughout IAC and allow for unencumbered allocation of spaces to meet validated needs. We appreciate your interest and support in reising or abolishing the Panama manpower ceiling.

- The Congressionally mandated manpower ceiling in Penema is a major concern to TAC. The growing political and military interest in Central and South America marrant a re-systuation of this arbitrary ceiling and we appreciate the opportunity to comment.
- 2. As you know, the TAC portion of the Panama reduction was 240 spaces. Those spaces are off the books now, but it was not an easy chore. As requested, we are providing rationals for return of some of those spaces to meet mission needs in Panama as seen by Rajor General Masterson and his subordinate commanders (Atch 1). Of course, we understand that if the ceiling were to be reised, TAC would have to provide any spaces added back.
- 3. Our vicinate objective should be to lift the ceiling altogether. We believe that an arbitrary ceiling in Panama is inappropriate not only for military and political reasons, but also for reasons which cause difficulty in the preper utilization of lotal command manpower resources. At a time when activity within 05500HH001 is in the national spotlight, it is conceivable that additional manpower could be required to sent unforesten requirements. We see no rationals to continue treating bound ATS differently from other IAC bases. Eliminating the criting bould casable equal and consistent trainment of manpower management policy throughout TAC and allow for unrecombered allocation of spects to meet validated meeds. We appreciate your interest and support in raising or abolishing the Fanama manpower coiling.
